

Logistics Services

Designing personalized transportation solutions to meet the needs of the life sciences industry.

Personalized stress-free logistics solutions

Captivate Bio offers tailored logistics services, an essential part of supply chain management, to clients located in the United States and abroad to support the transport and movements of goods.

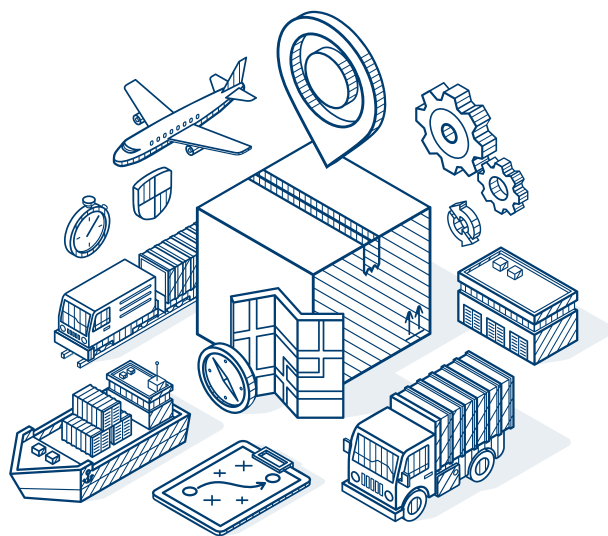

We operate a national logistics network, ensuring that your products will be moved securely and safely to the exact location where they are needed. For even greater peace of mind, you will have a dedicated team to monitor the progress of your shipment from door to door providing communications and reports along the route. Once the shipment has reached its destination, you will receive confirmation that your shipment has been delivered.

Why Captivate Bio?

Captivate Bio's unique combination of experience, service, and satisfied customers allows us to offer a high degree of reliability while keeping costs down for our customers. No matter the hurdle, our team can design the best logistics solution to solve your toughest challenges.
